[Star Wars is over, Time War is now!]

Relying on a naive linear conception of the popular psychology of time, instrumental cognitivist rationality (Cartesianist-Baconian sciences, economics) having saturated/conquered its design space now reifies the temporal dimension:1/4

“predictive processing” models of the mind, “linguistic statistical generation” in AI, “Oracles” in the cutting-edge digital economy (Web3). The future has become a “market” where only the best predic(a)tors will be saved.

Externalized socio-operational command at its peak (exponential positive feedback from all cognitivist/common sense domains): the wisdom of living in the present inverted into a socio-professional injunction without memory.

The heart of this inversion, resulting from an excess: the collective denial of the reflexive and recursive dimension of objective scientific knowledge (the point of view "without observer-actor"/God's eye/3P-Only) and its corollary: the dimension analog of knowledge.
