[What is "Reality"?]

A techno-socio collective historical norm? A personal phenomenological experience? Both? Neither?

Exploring: What is this space between and around the logical and distinctive "it is" and "it is not"?

i Note: A "gram" is defined by Auroux, Derrida and Stiegler as a unit of discretization of the continuous, so that it can be reproducible.

👉 See the concept of "Grammatology" and "Grammatization" for more precisions.
